

All Saints Church

Worship Update

January 2nd 2021

With the numbers of infection rising we are very aware of the balance of risk for any activities that take place indoors and the fact that worship is an exemption to the tier 4 requirement to stay at home.

We will continue to offer three services of Holy Communion each week, but would ask that you think very carefully before attending so that we keep the risk to a minimum for those who feel that worship in person is essential for them. As you will already be aware we are not allowed to mix amongst households and bubbles at Church and all our existing covid-secure measures remain in place.

We have all been reminded this year how precious the chance to worship together is, but we have also been reminded that, during the pandemic, the best way to care for those we love is to keep apart for a while to keep everyone safe. With the vaccinations beginning to roll out and a real hope that within a few months we will be in a better place I hope that we can all play our part to reduce our interactions with other people and keep the rate of infection down.

All Saints Church will be open for simple services of Holy Communion on Thursdays at 10am and Sundays 8am and 9:30am.

The live stream will continue to go out at 9:30am on Sundays.

This will be the pattern until Sunday 17th January, and we will continue to update you if the situation changes.

Mother Cate.